Business Strategy

The Company's vision is to Pour Extraordinary into Everyday Life. The Company believes it achieves this objective by delivering to its customers and consumers the highest quality branded wines, spirits, refreshments, beer and experiences at the best possible value. To meet this goal, the Company invests in improvements in the quality of grapes, wines, and other raw materials, its winemaking and distillation capabilities, sales and marketing initiatives, tourism and hospitality experiences, and its quality management programs. The Company's wine portfolio covers the complete spectrum of price levels within the Canadian wine market. Over the long term the Company believes premium wine and spirits sales will continue to grow in Canada and these products generate higher prices and increased profitability compared to lower-priced products. The Company has also entered the spirits and craft beer categories, through its strategic alliance with Wayne Gretzky, and has introduced sangrias and ciders through its own brand labels.

Sales

The Company's net sales for the year ended March 31, 2020 were $382.3 million. The second and third quarters of the Company's fiscal year are historically the largest due to increased activity at the Company's estate properties and increased consumer purchasing of the Company's products during the holiday season. Principal Products

The Company produces products for several segments of the wine market including VQA, International Canadian Blends (ICB), import wines and personal winemaking, with a variety of brands designed to meet consumer needs across demographics, product types, and quality levels. The Company also produces products that cross many price points. For the value priced end of the market, the Company sources bulk international wine and blends it with lower priced domestic wine, where the viticulture and harvesting of the grapes is managed at a lower cost than for the domestic premium VQA wine portfolio. The Company also makes a wide range of premium priced VQA wines, made from 100% domestic high-quality grapes grown in both Ontario and B.C. This strategy allows the company to expand and maximize market coverage and scale to grow market share. In keeping with our vision, the Company has carefully expanded its portfolio beyond wine by introducing beer, spirits and ciders over the past several years.

The largest segment for the company is ICB. The Company's largest ICB wine brand is Peller Family Vineyards which has strong consumer loyalty across the country. This brand was successfully relaunched in 2019 – product packaging changes were made to increase in-store visibility, a national television campaign was launched to drive brand equity and new product offerings were developed in the form of entry level 750mL bottles, convenient single-serve tetra paks, and the introduction of Peller Family Vineyards Light, a lower calorie option. The Peller Family Vineyards portfolio is the most expansive within the Company's line-up of brands. Copper Moon, the largest brand in the Western Canadian market, is the Company's 2nd largest brand. Black Cellar is positioned at a slightly higher price point than traditional ICB products and offers a sweeter taste profile to appeal to the younger consumer. XOXO is a fast-growing brand that has benefited from geographical expansion to Western Canada from its historically strong base in Ontario. It has also seen growth through innovation into low alcohol wines with XOXO Light as well as convenient single serve tetra paks and flavoured wines through XOXO Botanicals. Large legacy brands Domaine D'or and Hochtaler also compete in the value blended segment and both fall within the Company's top ten brand list.

The second largest segment for the Company is VQA wines. In addition to Peller Estates, the Company has four other VQA brands in its top ten list: Trius, Wayne Gretzky, Sandhill and Red Rooster, all of which are supported by beautiful estate wineries. In October 2017, the Company acquired 3 new wineries in the Okanagan becoming the largest B.C. VQA supplier in Canada. These included Black Hills Estate Winery, Gray Monk Estate Winery, and Tinhorn Creek Vineyards. The Company operates in the VQA Icewine segment which is uniquely produced in Canada and sold domestically as well as internationally. All of these brands are positioned to maximize market coverage nationally across a range of product types and channels of distribution.

The Company also competes in three craft spaces: local cider, whisky and beer. No Boats on Sunday was launched in 2016 in the Company's owned retail stores in Ontario as well as in Atlantic Canada and in 2019, was expanded nationally, with additional flavourings and packaging options. The Company will also be launching into the fast growing ready-to-drink segment with five low-calorie flavours under the No Boats on Sunday brand. Wayne Gretzky Estates has three premium traditional whiskies in Wayne Gretzky Estates as well as a cream-based whisky and in April 2019, Wayne Gretzky Estates launched its No. 99 Lager, the Company's first craft beer. The portfolio was recently expanded to include No. 99 Pale Ale and No. 99 Session Ale.

The Company owns two import agencies, Andrew Peller Imports and the Small Winemakers Collection that sell and distribute premium import wines from suppliers from around the world. Both of these agencies leverage premium import wines to get Company owned wine brands on restaurant wine lists.

Global Vintners Inc. is the leading manufacturer and distributor of personal winemaking products. For over 50 years, GVI has distributed wine kits under the brand names Winexpert, Vineco, and Wine Kitz through a network of independent retailers throughout Canada, the United States, the U.K., and a number of other countries. Global Vintners recently transformed its product portfolio to attract new consumers, drive brand recognition, improve product quality and reduce its carbon footprint.

The Company's competitors range in size from large, well established national and multi-national corporations to small "farm gate" wineries that are limited to selling only wine produced from vineyards that they own or control. The Company also competes with large spirit companies like Diageo (Crown Royal), Pernod Ricard (Jameson/ Glenlivet/ Chivas Regal), William Grant & Son/Hiram Walker (Gibson), Gruppo Compari (Forty Creek), Corby's (J.P Wiser) - who also distributes the Pernod Ricard whisky in Canada - as well as smaller craft producers like Collingwood and Virginia Black. The Company competes on the basis of providing value through a balance of quality and price, promotion, brand recognition, and distribution. With the launch of the Company's craft beer, the Company now also competes with large craft brands like Labatt (Mill Street), Collective Arts, Steam Whistle and Amsterdam - as well as smaller craft producers like Flying Monkey and Nicklebrook. The Company competes on the basis of providing value through a balance of quality and price, promotion, brand recognition, and distribution.

Other Intangible Properties

The Company has approximately 250 authorized retailer agreements in place relating to the distribution of home winemaking products across Canada.

Raw Materials

The Company purchases its raw materials, including grapes, wine, juice, grains, spirits, concentrate, glass bottles, and other packaging materials from a wide range of suppliers around the world.

The production process involves the preparation of product, packaging, and shipping to customers. The nature of the process and the production inputs required vary by brand. The required liquid production inputs include purchased domestic grapes from local grape growers, grapes harvested from APL owned vineyards, and bulk wine purchased both in Canada and on international markets. Apples and apple juice for national cider products are contracted domestically by region. The finished product is packaged in glass bottles and bag in box format in the Grimsby, Kelowna, and Truro facilities. Co-packers are used to bottle wine in the tetra pak format and 19.5L stainless steel kegs. Co-packers are also used to package cider, beer and ready-to-drink products in aluminium cans.

In Ontario and B.C., grapes are purchased from a number of third-party growers under supply contracts with the Company. In Ontario the Company is required to purchase grape tonnage to meet minimum legal requirements. Grape prices are negotiated annually between Ontario based producers and the Grape Growers' Marketing Board, while in British Columbia, grape prices are negotiated between the Company and individual growers. In B.C., the industry uses weighted average from the previous vintage as the basis for these negotiations. Grapes purchased in Ontario and B.C. are used primarily for the Ontario and B.C. markets, respectively.

The Company's investment in vineyards has helped to ensure it has a high quality and consistent supply of grapes grown in Canada. Niagara-on-the-Lake, the Beamsville Bench, and the Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys in B.C. are four of the best locations in the world for the production of premium vinifera grapes. To secure its supply of high-quality grapes, the Company has invested in Ontario and B.C. vineyards, and owns and leases 306 and 719 acres, respectively.

The Company has entered into a number of contracts with over 75 grape growers in Ontario and B.C. to ensure that a continuous supply of grapes is available. The contract terms vary from one to ten years in duration and mature at varying times up to and including the 2029 harvest. The commitments to purchase grapes grown in Canada are approximately $37 million per year.

To complement grapes purchased in Ontario and B.C. and to meet consumer demand in all regions of the country, the Company purchases wine, juice, and concentrate from suppliers around the world, primarily in Chile, Argentina, South Africa, Australia, Spain and Italy. The Company has entered into advance purchase contracts with foreign suppliers to purchase bulk wine through 2021.

The Company utilizes various packaging materials, including glass bottles, bag in box, barrels, tetra paks, prisms, kegs, corks, capsules, labels, and cartons in the bottling and packaging of its wines. The Company utilizes glass and cans in the bottling and packaging of its cider products and cans for the packaging of its beer and RTD portfolio. Glass bottles represent a significant component of the total cost of goods sold. The Company enters into annual contracts with domestic glass suppliers to ensure continuity of supply for high volume brands and also has supply agreements for premium imported glass from the European Union. Supply risk is mitigated by carrying increased inventories of select bottles. The Company has supply agreements with can distributors in the United States and Canada to ensure continuity of supply for aluminium cans.

The Company considers its sources of supply to be adequate.

Regulation

The business of the Company is extensively regulated by provincial legislation which governs the manufacture and sale of beverage alcohol. Provincial liquor authorities issue licences for the manufacture and sale of beverage alcohol in each province. Provincial regulations govern the pricing, packaging, labelling, advertising, production, and distribution of products manufactured by licensed wineries, breweries, and distilleries. The Company is in compliance in all material respects with provincial legislation that regulates the manufacture and sale of beverage alcohol. The Company is also in material compliance with all provincial and federal legislation relating to environmental regulations.

The Company is subject to environmental regulation at the federal, provincial, and municipal levels. The Company is committed to addressing environmental matters and to continually improving its environmental performance. Environmental highlights are presented to the Board of Directors twice a year and environmental improvements are incorporated into the business planning cycle.

Environmental performance is monitored internally with a focus on reducing waste, improving processes, and sourcing new recycling streams while meeting environmental laws and regulation. A Sustainability pillar was launched in the organization in 2020, inviting all teammates to participate in the goal of reducing our environmental impact. In fiscal 2020, several sites conducted third-party sustainability audits achieving Gold and Silver status. Re-certification of these sites is scheduled for fiscal 2022.

The Company is also subject to local by-laws with respect to wastewater discharge at each of its production facilities and works in partnership with various levels of government to obtain all required environmental permits. Environmental Activity and Sector Registry ("EASR") assessment and registration was completed for the Company's Ontario winery and estate properties in fiscal 2018. EASR assessments and registrations are in progress for the GVI sites in fiscal 2020. APL has implemented measures to reduce wastewater at the source and is actively experimenting with innovative and sustainable ways to reduce biological oxygen demand. The Company continues to invest in environmental infrastructure related to water, air, utilities and waste to ensure that regulations and environmental standards are met and that the Company's targeted reduction in environmental impact is achieved.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company's sales of wine and craft beverage alcohol products are affected by general economic conditions and social trends such as changes in discretionary consumer spending and consumer confidence, future economic conditions, changes to inter-provincial trade laws, tax laws, the prices of its products and health trends. The duration and impact of the COVID-19 outbreak is unknown at this time. The impact of the outbreak on the financial results of the Company will depend on future developments, including the duration and spread of the outbreak and its impact on the overall economy and related advisories and restrictions. It is not possible to reliably estimate the length and severity of these developments and conclusively quantify the impact on the financial results and condition of the Company in future periods. If the overall economy is impacted for an extended period, the financial results of the Company may be materially adversely affected. Such general economic conditions could impact the Company's sales through export, estate property hospitality and personal winemaking channels. The Company's suppliers may not have the materials, capacity or capability to supply components according to its schedule and specifications if the outbreak continues. This could delay the release or delivery of the Company's products or require management to make unexpected changes to such products which may materially affect the business, operating results and future compliance with the Company's financial covenants.

The outbreak may also have an effect on the future collectability of certain receivables, recoverability of property plant and equipment, goodwill and intangible assets, as well as fair value of derivatives. As the duration and impact of the COVID-19 outbreak or the efficacy of the Government and Bank of Canada interventions is not known at this time, it is not possible to reliably estimate the length and severity of these developments or quantify the impact this pandemic may have on the financial results and condition of the Company in future periods. In response to COVID-19, the Company has implemented working practices to address potential impacts to its operations, employees and customers and will take further measures in the future, if required. At present, the Company has not identified any material continuity risks specifically associated with COVID-19.

The Government of Ontario has announced its intention to modernize the rules for selling beverage alcohol in Ontario by expanding retail distribution in the province. This could represent a significant change to the retail landscape in Ontario with the goal of providing more convenience and choice to consumers. While there has not been a proposal by the Government of Ontario regarding implementation, the Company is working closely with its industry partners to mitigate the risks that this transition may have on its financial results.

The Canadian wine market continues to be the target of low-priced imported wines from regions and countries that subsidize wine production and grape growing as well as providing sizeable export incentives on subsidies. Many of these countries and regions prohibit or restrict the sale of imported wine in their own domestic markets. The Company, along with other members of the Canadian wine industry, are working with the Canadian government to improve support for the domestic industry.

The Company operates in a highly competitive industry and the dollar amount and unit volume of sales could be negatively impacted by its inability to maintain or increase prices, changes in geographic or product mix, a general decline in beverage alcohol consumption, or the decision of retailers or consumers to purchase competitive products instead of the Company's products. Retailer and consumer purchasing decisions are influenced by, among other things, the perceived absolute or relative overall value of the Company's products including their quality or pricing compared to competitive products. Unit volume and dollar sales could also be affected by purchasing, financing, operational, advertising, or promotional decisions made by provincial agencies and retailers which could affect supply of or consumer demand for the Company's products. APL could also experience higher than expected selling and administrative expenses if it finds it necessary to increase the number of its personnel, advertising, or promotional expenditures to maintain its competitive position.

APL expects to increase sales in Canada principally through the sale of VQA wines, and as a result, is dependent on the quality and supply of domestically grown premium quality grapes. If any of the Company's vineyards or the vineyards of our grape suppliers experience certain weather variations, natural disasters, pestilence, other severe environmental problems, or other occurrences, APL may not be able to secure a sufficient supply of grapes, a situation which could result in a decrease in production of certain products from those regions and/or result in an increase in costs. The inability to secure premium quality grapes could impair the ability of the Company to supply certain wines to its customers. APL has developed programs to ensure it has access to a consistent supply of premium quality grapes and wine. The price of grapes is determined through negotiations with the Ontario Grape Growers Marketing Board in Ontario and with independent growers in British Columbia.

Foreign exchange risk exists on the purchases of bulk wine and concentrate that are primarily made in United States dollars, Euros, and Australian dollars. Fluctuating foreign currencies may have a positive or negative impact on gross margins, however, the Company believes the impact on gross margin will be largely offset by its continued ability to leverage scale and successful cost control initiatives to reduce other cost of goods sold. The Company's strategy is to hedge approximately 50% - 80% of its foreign exchange requirements throughout the fiscal year and to regularly review its on-going requirements. The Company does not enter into foreign exchange contracts for trading or speculative purposes and contracts are reviewed periodically. As at March 31, 2020, the Company had locked in $7.7 million in U.S. dollar contracts at rates ranging between $1.30 and $1.31 Canadian. These contracts expire at various dates through September 2020. Based on the Company's forecasts for foreign currency purchases and the amount of foreign exchange forward contracts outstanding at March 31, 2020, each one percent change in the U.S. dollar would impact the Company's net earnings by an estimated $0.2 million. Each one percent change in the Euro and the Australian dollar exchange rates would not result in a material impact on the Company's net earnings.

The Company purchases glass, bag in box, tetra paks, and other components used for bottling and packaging. The largest component of packaging is glass, of which there are few domestic or international suppliers. There is currently only one commercial supplier of glass in Canada that is able to supply glass to APL's specifications. Any interruption in supply could have an adverse impact on the Company's ability to supply its markets. APL has taken steps to reduce its dependence on domestic suppliers through the development of relationships with several international producers of glass and through carrying increased inventory of selected bottles.

The Company operates in a highly regulated industry with requirements regarding the production, distribution, marketing, advertising, and labelling of wine and spirits. These regulatory requirements may inhibit or restrict the Company's ability to maintain or increase strong consumer support for and recognition of its brands and may adversely affect APL's business strategies and results of operations. Privatization of liquor distribution and retailing has been implemented in varying degrees across the country. The recent regulatory changes relating to privatization in Ontario and sales through grocery outlets remains a risk to the Company through its impact on the Company's retail operations.

The wine industry and the domestic and international markets in which the Company operates are consolidating. This has resulted in fewer, but larger, competitors who have increased their resources and scale. The increased competition from these larger market participants may affect the Company's pricing strategies and create margin pressures resulting in potentially lower revenues. Competition also exerts pressure on existing customer relationships which may affect APL's ability to retain existing customers and increase the number of new customers. The Company has worked to improve production efficiencies, selectively increase pricing to increase gross margin, and implement a higher level of promotion and advertising activity to remain competitive. APL and other wine industry participants also generally compete with other alcoholic beverages for consumer acceptance, loyalty, and shelf space. No assurance can be given that consumer demand for wine and premium wine products will continue at current levels in the future.

Federal and provincial governments impose excise, other taxes, and mark-ups on beverage alcohol products which have been subject to change. Significant increases in excise and other taxes on beverage alcohol products could materially and adversely affect the Company's financial condition or results of operations. Federal and provincial governmental agencies extensively regulate the beverage alcohol products industry concerning such matters as licensing, trade practices, permitted and required labelling, advertising, and relations with consumers and retailers. Certain federal and provincial regulations also require warning labels and signage. New or revised regulations, increased licensing fees, requirements, taxes, or mark-ups could also have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

The Company's future operating results also depend on the ability of its officers and other key employees to continue to implement and improve its operating and financial systems and manage the Company's significant relationships with its suppliers and customers. The Company is also dependent upon the performance of its key senior management personnel. The Company's success is linked to its ability to identify, hire, train, motivate, promote, and retain highly qualified management. Competition for such employees is intense and there can be no assurances that the Company will be able to retain current key employees or attract new key employees.

The Company has certain defined benefit pension plans. The expense and cash contributions related to these plans depend on the discount rate used to measure the liability to pay future benefits and the market performance of the plan assets set aside to pay these benefits. The Company's Pension Committee reviews the performance of plan assets on a regular basis and has a policy to hold diversified investments. Nevertheless, a decline in long-term interest rates or in asset values could increase the Company's costs related to funding the deficit in these plans.

The competitive nature of the wine industry internationally has resulted in the discounting of retail prices of wine in key markets such as the United States and the United Kingdom. Although significant price discounting may occur in Canada beyond current levels, the Company believes that its product quality, advertising, and promotional support along with its competitive pricing strategies will effectively mitigate the impact of this to the Company.

The Company considers its trademarks, particularly certain brand names and product packaging, advertising and promotion design, and artwork to be of significant importance to its business and ascribes a significant value to these intangible assets. APL relies on trademark laws and other arrangements to protect its proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that the steps taken by APL to protect its intellectual property rights will preclude competitors from developing confusingly similar brand names or promotional materials. The Company believes that its proprietary rights do not infringe upon the proprietary rights of fourth parties, but there can be no assurance in this regard.

As an owner and lessee of property the Company is subject to various federal and provincial laws relating to environmental matters. Such laws provide that the Company could be held liable for the cost of removal and remediation of hazardous substances on its properties. The failure to remedy any situation that might arise could lead to claims against the Company. A perceived failure to maintain high ethical, social, and environmental standards could have an adverse effect on the Company's reputation.

The success of the Company's brands depends upon the positive image that consumers have of those brands. Contamination of APL's products, whether arising accidentally or through deliberate fourth-party action, or other events that harm the integrity or consumer support for those brands could adversely affect their sales. Contaminants in raw materials purchased from fourth parties and used in the production of the Company's products or defects in the fermentation process could lead to low product quality as well as illness among, or injury to, consumers of the products and may result in reduced sales of the affected brand or all of the Company's brands.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The Company's Class A Shares (non-voting) ("Class A Shares") are entitled to a dividend in an amount equal to 115% of any dividends paid or declared on Class B Shares (voting) ("Class B Shares"). On June 10, 2020, the Company's Board of Directors approved a common share dividend with no increase to preserve capital as a result of COVID-19. The annual dividend on Class A Shares is $0.215 per share and the dividend on Class B Shares is $0.187, which will be paid quarterly to shareholders. The Company has consistently paid common share dividends since 1979 and dividend payments are reviewed annually by the Board of Directors.

On June 2, 2016 the Company's Board of Directors approved a Dividend Reinvestment Plan (DRIP) for Class A Shares effective on September 9, 2016. Under the DRIP, registered Class A shareholders can elect to have 100% of their dividends reinvested to purchase additional Class A Shares. The Board of Directors believes the DRIP provides Class A shareholders with a cost-effective method to increase their investment in the Company.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STRUCTURE

The authorized share capital of the Company consists of an unlimited number of Preference Shares, issuable in one or more series, of which 33,315 are designated as Preference Shares, Series A, an unlimited number of Class A Shares and an unlimited number of Class B Shares. The only classes of shares of APL that are issued and outstanding are Class A Shares and Class B Shares. The only shares of the Company which are entitled to vote on matters set out in the notice of meeting of security holders are the Class B Shares. Neither the Class A Shares nor the Class B Shares may be subdivided, consolidated, reclassified, or otherwise changed unless contemporaneously therewith the other class of shares is subdivided, consolidated, reclassified, or otherwise changed in the same manner and in the same proportion. In the event of liquidation, dissolution, or a winding-up of the Company, all of the Company's property and assets available for distribution to the holders of Class A Shares and Class B Shares shall be paid or distributed equally, share for share, to the holders of Class A Shares and Class B Shares, respectively. In the event a takeover bid is made for Class B Shares, the holders of Class A Shares have no right to participate on such takeover bid.

During fiscal 2020, 7,111 Class B Shares were converted in Class A Shares on a one-for-one basis. On November 8, 2019, the Company announced its normal course issuer bid to repurchase for cancellation up to 1,799,733 Class A Shares, representing 5% of Class A Shares issued and outstanding as at the close of markets on November 7, 2019, during the period from November 12, 2019 to November 12, 2020. The total number of Class A Shares repurchased for cancellation under the normal course issuer bid during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020 amounted to 597,000 Class A Shares, at a weighted average price of $10.44 for Class A Share. On March 31, 2020, the Company had outstanding 8,191,883 Class B Shares without nominal or par value, each carrying the right to one vote per share, and 35,403,767 Class A Shares.

As described above, Class A Shares are non-voting securities and are entitled to a dividend in an amount equal to 115% of any dividend paid or declared on Class B Shares. Class B Shares are voting securities and convertible into Class A Shares on a one-for-one basis.
